MISSOULA, Mont.--

Fifteen University of Montana students returned recently from Austria after participating in the 5th annual UM Spring Quarter Study Program in Vienna. The program is sponsored by the UM Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures and the College of Arts and Sciences.

While in Vienna, the students had the opportunity to live with Austrians, either in private homes or in student dormitories. They pursued a course of study which included intermediate and advanced language instruction, a class in Austrian history and culture and one on Austrian theater.

The goal of the program is to bring the students into direct contact with the language, culture and people of Austria. As part of the program the students took excursions to important historical and cultural locations in and around Vienna, and they attended performances of all plays read in the theater class.

Participation in the program is limited to students who have completed five quarters or / the equivalent of German, but it is not limited to German majors.

Names of UM students (listed alphabetically by their hometowns) who participated in the overseas program this spring follow. Included in the listing are the students' academic majors. In-state students are listed first.

BILLINGS--Valerie Ellison, German/English major, and Ann Winegardner, liberal arts major.

CHOTEAU--George Thompson, business administration major.

DILLON--Kimberly Rehm, German major.

LEWISTOWN--Natalie Langford, German major.
